EARTH & WONDER

The Night Everything Happened

Read it out loud, using your words for each number

It was the most (1) New Year's Eve ever. (2) had been cooking all day and made a mountain of (3). By nine o'clock, (4) guests had arrived, plus one very confused (5) who would not stop (6).

At eleven, the music got so loud the neighbours shouted "(7)!" through the window. Grandma put on her (8) sparkly (9) and announced she was moving to (10) in the spring.

Then the (11) cake slid off the table and landed right on Uncle Ted's (12). Everyone gasped, until (13) walked through the door and said, "Don't worry, let's all (14)!"

At 11:59 we grabbed our noisemakers and counted down together. Ten… nine… eight… When the clock struck twelve, everyone yelled "(15)! Happy New Year!" and banged on a (16) until the sun came up.

The end, and the very best beginning.
